

Work in Academia: Underrepresented Racial and Ethnic Female Scholars in Higher Education

Negro Educational Review Winter 2011

Natasha Croom & Lori Patton, The Miner's Canary: A Critical Race Perspective on the Representation of Black Women Full Professors

Vonzell Agosto & Zorka Karanxha, Resistance Meets Spirituality in Academia: "I prayed on it!"

Dimpal Jain & Carolyn Turner, Purple is to Lavender: Womanism, Resistance, and the Politics of Naming

Deirdre Cobb-Robert, Betwixt Safety and Shielding in the Academy: Confronting Institutional Gendered Racism (Again)

Bettye P. Smith & Juanita Johnson-Bailey, Student Ratings of Teaching Effectiveness

Gretchen Givens Generett & Sheryl Conrad Cozart, The Spirit Bears Witness: Reflections of Two African American Women in the Academy

Dannielle Joy Davis, Cassandra Chaney, LaWanda Edwards, G. Kaye Thompson-Rogers, and Kathryn T. Gines, Academe as Extreme Sport: Black Women, Faculty Development, and Networking

Joane Kilgour Dowdy, Awilda Hamilton, & "Willa", I'm Still Here: Lessons From A Black, Female Administrator

Lynnette Mawhinney, Othermothering and Care-sickness: A Personal Narrative

Crystal Chamber, Candid reflections on the Departure of Black Women Faculty from Academe

Deirdre Cobb-Roberts & Vonzell Agosto, Book Review of Tedious Journeys: Autoethnography by Women of Color in Academe, edited by Cynthia Cole Robinson and Pauline Clardy

<http://works.bepress.com/>